Direct & Indirect Food Distribution: The Idaho Foodbank operates warehouse facilities in Meridian, Lewiston, and Pocatello, distributing donated and purchased food to a statewide network of 400 Community Partners in all 44 Idaho counties. Community Partners include schools, churches, pantries, soup kitchens, shelters, senior centers, and supplemental food programs. For communities that lack a brick-and-mortar food pantry or special populations that require supplemental food support, The Idaho Foodbank conducts schedule mobile pantry deliveries of fresh, dry, and frozen food. The Idaho Foodbank distributed over 26.2 million pounds of food - providing food for up to 22 million meals - through community partners and its own direct-service programs throughout the state of Idaho. When food is purchased, volume buying power maximized the return on donor contributions to such a degree that one dollar can provide food for up to three meals. Form 990, Part III, Line 4b - Nutritional Services: The Idaho Foodbank develops, implements, and administers a wide array of direct-service programs that benefit the health and well-being of especially vulnerable populations such as families, children, and seniors. Programs in addition to the Mobile Pantry program mentioned above include Backpack, School Pantry, Cooking Matters, Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP), and The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP). The Idaho foodbank also collaborates with health care professionals to ensure that these programs promote healthier families and more stable communities. During the most recent school year, The Idaho Foodbank's Backpack program distributed a total of 64,950 backpacks. Statewide, on average 2,000 children received a backpack every Friday throughout the school year. In the same period, 386,907 pounds of food (or the equivalent of 322,423 meals) was distributed to 17,324 households through the School Pantry program. School-based programs directed at children and families provide an impact on the educational performance of children. Moreover, school staff report that the Backpack program has improved relationships and communications with families. Community Initiatives: Recognizing that food is a social determinant of health, The Idaho Foodbank works in collaboration with community coalitions, healthcare organizations, and the general community to address food insecurity and to improve community health. During the fiscal year, the Community Initiatives team participated in twenty regional and local community health coalitions, presented at or attended eighteen conferences and seminars, and hosted two regional partner conferences. These were done to deepen understanding and collaboration regarding the link between hunger and health to audiences including Foodbank partner organizations, healthcare collaborators, university partners, social service providers, and community stakeholders. To increase awareness of and access to critical resources, the Community Initiatives team facilitated the distribution of 357 quarterly resource boxes for referrals to programs and resources that help beyond food. These boxes contained twenty-one unique materials about resources available across the state for housing, education, healthcare, economic well-being, home energy assistance, mental health, supplemental nutrition, and navigating care resources. The Community Initiatives team continued to deepen relationships with key healthcare providers in the state by contributing to regional health improvement plans, engaging in projects to alleviate diabetes in food deserts with St. Luke's, mentoring 20 nursing students on service-based learning projects, partnering with a resident physician to help a three-year long community medicine project come to fruition, and opening a food pantry on St. Alphonsus's main Boise campus. The Idaho Foodbank's Culturally Responsive Food Program provides food assistance that respects the cultural and dietary needs of diverse communities, with a focus on Hispanic, Indigenous, refugee, and other underserved groups with unique dietary needs. By partnering with community leaders and sourcing culturally significant foods, the program aims to improve nutrition and enhance engagement in food assistance programs across the state. The Community Initiatives team utilized translation services to connect non-English speakers to food assistance and direct delivery of food to some of Idaho's most vulnerable populations. The team also communicated bilingually to deliver targeted SNAP, WIC, Medicaid, Open Enrollment, and Idaho LAUNCH social media campaigns. These campaigns were highly effective at reaching both English and Spanish speaking neighbors and reached a combined audience total of over 250,000 Idahoans. The goal of Community Initiatives department is to work to understand community needs through collaboration and relationship-building, and to explore creative solutions to meet those needs to improve community health.

Form 990, Part VI, Section A, Line 1a - The governing body of the Organization delegates broad authority to act on its behalf to the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee is comprised of the Chair, Chair Elect, Treasurer, Secretary, and Past Chair. All members of the Executive Committee are on the board.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 11b - Before it is filed, the form is sent electronically in PDF format to all Board Members. They review the document in its entirety, and communicate back to the President & CEO that they have completed the review, and approve its filing along with any points of concern.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c - New Board Members are presented with the Conflict of Interest Statement during the Board Member orientation process, which must be signed upon election to the board. All Board Members must sign a new Conflict of Interest Statement yearly at the annual board meeting. In the event of a possible conflict while voting, the Board Member shall disclose and abstain from the discussions and voting. The Employee Handbook includes a Conflict of Interest section which is reviewed upon employment and is signed by the employee as acceptance of the policy. The Leadership Team of the Organization also sign an annual Conflict of Interest Statement. Both policies are monitored by the Organization's Leadership Team on an ongoing basis.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15 - The Board of Directors' Executive Committee independently decides the compensation of the President & CEO on a yearly basis. The last review was February 22, 2024. The Executive Committee also reviews compensation recommendations from the President & CEO for the remaining Leadership Team members using market comparison data, and makes final decisions for any changes. They provide written authorization for any changes, and their decisions are reflected in the Executive Committee meeting minutes.
